About the School

The Balsillie School of International Affairs (BSIA) is an institute for advanced research, education, and outreach in the fields of global governance and international public policy.

As a hub in a global network of scholars, practitioners and students, BSIA aims to develop new solutions to humanity's critical problems, improve global governance now and in the future, and enhance the quality of people's lives around the world.

Founded in 2007 by philanthropist Jim Balsillie, BSIA is an equal collaboration among the Centre for International Governance Innovation (CIGI), the University of Waterloo (UW), and Wilfrid Laurier University (Laurier). The collaborating institutions bring to BSIA different but complementary strengths, so they have different roles and responsibilities. The two universities employ BSIA faculty and offer BSIA's academic programs, while CIGI, as a think tank, uses its in-house expertise and its worldwide network of practitioners to help inform and guide BSIA's outreach and collaborative research. The BSIA is also the home to three research centres with an international profile - the Academic Council on the United Nations System (ACUNS), the International Migration Research Centre (IMRC) and the Centre for Sustainable Food Systems.

The unique integration of the collaborating institutions' approaches and cultures gives BSIA an unmatched ability to promote vigorous engagement across boundaries of discipline and practice, to connect today's experts with tomorrow's leaders in critical debate and analysis, and to achieve—in all its work—the highest standards of excellence.

Highlights of the Year

The academic year 2016-17 was one of considerable achievement for the School. Our graduate programs increased in size and our students won a record amount of external funding. Our faculty continued to achieve national and international recognition for the quality of their research.

In 2016-17, our PhD intake was increased to eleven new students. The Master of International Public Policy (MIPP) program welcomed its first cohort of students funded through the African Leaders of Tomorrow (ALT) initiative, which commemorates Nelson Mandela's commitment to social justice and equity by offering young African women and men the opportunity to study in a master's degree program in Canada. The initiative is funded by Global Affairs Canada and the MasterCard Foundation, and we were pleased that three ALT students joined our MIPP program. The partnership between the School and Global Affairs Canada was deepened.

The School continued its collaboration with the Foresight and Global Trends Analysis unit in the Foreign Policy Bureau of Global Affairs to develop papers that fed into the department's analysis of developments likely to affect Canada's foreign policy in the coming years. Our Masters and PhD students presented drafts of their briefs at the annual CIGI Graduate Student Symposium in April. Mr. Jim Balsillie opened the event and Senator Raynell Andreychuk gave the keynote address. The final versions of the policy briefs were presented at a meeting at Global Affairs in June 2017. The meeting included more than 60 officials from various government departments. Fifteen of the policy briefs will be published as an e-anthology on the School's website at the end of this calendar year (see page 25 for more information about the policy briefs). We look forward to continuing our relationship with the Department in the future.

The School maintained an active events and outreach program through the year, hosting close to 100 lectures, seminars and workshops. Many of the events were organized by the six research clusters that the School has identified as its core areas of expertise: Conflict and Security; Environment and Resources; Global Political Economy; Migration, Mobilities and Social Politics; Multilateral Institutions; and Science and Health Policy. The vast majority of them were open to the public. For a third year, the School hosted an International Law Summer Institute, co-organized by Neil Craik (UW) and Sara Seck (Western), which attracted Masters and PhD students from across the country, and a number of distinguished speakers. The School also hosted a Model G20 for the University of Waterloo's Model UN society, and a Model UN for the local high schools. Among the highlights of a very busy year were public lectures by Stephen Lewis, co-founder and co-director, AIDS-Free World; Tima Kurdi, co-founder, the Alan and Ghalib Kurdi Foundation; Jeremy Grimshaw, co-chair, Campbell Collaboration; Kim Tallbear, Sisseton Wahpeton Ovate Professor at the University of Alberta; David Wilson, Director of the Global AIDS Program, World Bank; Markus Gehring, Cambridge University; Climate scientists Dr. Anthony Barnosky and Elizabeth Hadly from Stanford University; and Catherine Dauvergne, Dean of the Law School at UBC. In its Ambassadors lecture series, the School welcomed the Ambassadors to Canada of Belgium and Norway, and the former US Ambassador to Finland. The School was also fortunate to host two Fulbright Chairs: Professor John Head from the Law School at the University of Kansas, and Professor Tao Wu from the Stuart School of Business at the Illinois Institute of Technology.

Our faculty continued to be recognized nationally and internationally for the excellence of their scholarship, teaching and administration. James Walker was appointed a Member of the Order of Canada. Jennifer Clapp was elected a Fellow of the Royal Society of Canada. Alison Blay-Palmer and Alison Mountz were inducted into the Royal Society of Canada College of New Scholars, Artists and Scientists. Heather Douglas was elected a Fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. Jasmin Habib won the Faculty of Arts Service Award at the University of Waterloo. The International Migration Research Centre—housed at the School—won Wilfrid Laurier University’s President’s Award for Team Achievement. Ian Rowlands was appointed to a three-year term as University of Waterloo’s Associate Vice-President, International. Karen Grepin was appointed to a Canada Research Chair (CRC); Allison Mountz’s appointment as a CRC was renewed.

Faculty won a number of prestigious external research grants. Jonathan Crush, Eric Helleiner and Larry Swatuk were successful in the competition for SSHRC Insight Grants. SSHRC Knowledge Synthesis Grants were awarded to Patricia Goff, Audra Mitchell and Bessma Momani. Patricia Goff, Jasmin Habib, Jenna Henneby and Bessma Momani won SSHRC Partnership Development Grants. Jonathan Crush, Suzan Ilcan, Kim Rygiel and Margaret Walton-Roberts received SSHRC Connection Grants; Margaret Walton-Roberts also won a SSHRC-IRCC Targeted Research Grant. Bessma Momani received two grants from the Pierre Elliott Trudeau Foundation—a Public Interaction award and a Project Grant—and also won a Department of National Defence Targeted Engagement Grant. Jonathan Crush gained support from the Open Society Foundation for his research; Alan Whiteside received funding from the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation. Karen Grepin won support for her research from the AXA Research Fund, and Sue Horton received a CIHR grant. Our incoming and current Masters and PhD students also received close to $1 million in external awards in 2017.

Six of our PhD students successfully defended their dissertations in the School in this academic year. Warm congratulations to Marisa Beck, Charis Enns, Shani Hormozi, Sarita Patil Woolhouse, Antulio Rosales Nieves and Pauline Maillet.

Warm congratulations to faculty, staff and students, for all their hard work in making this another outstanding year for the School.

Research Clusters

Conflict and Security

Research in this cluster includes work on confidence building, the nexus between economics and security, the role of ideology in conflict, critical approaches to security and human security, and human rights.

Convenors: Andrew Cooper, Alistair Edgar and Jasmin Habib

Environment and Resources

This cluster addresses global governance challenges arising from large-scale environmental and resource stresses, including climate change, food insecurity, declining biodiversity, water shortages, forest loss, fisheries depletion, and energy scarcities.

Convenors: Simon Dalby, Clay Dasilva, Thomas Homer-Dixon, Randall Wigle

Global Political Economy

This cluster embraces a variety of perspectives on the field of political economy. Topics include the politics of global trade and finance, the changing world food system, and the rise of “emerging powers” in the world economy.

Convenors: Patricia Goff and Eric Helleiner

Migration, Mobilities and Social Politics

This group fosters dialogue and scholarship on governance challenges arising from global migration, mobilities and social politics. Priorities include human rights and citizenship, global social policy and protection, diaspora and transnationalism, and territory and identity.

Convenors: Suzan Ilcan and Kim Rygiel

Multilateral Institutions

This cluster analyzes the activities and policies of political, economic and other multilateral institutions - including intergovernmental and non-governmental organizations - and the challenges that face such bodies or are posed by their actions.

Convenors: Andrew Cooper and Alistair Edgar

Science and Health Policy

Drawing on the enormous wealth of talent in the STEM disciplines at both universities, this cluster examines environmental policies, innovation policies, health policies, and how Canada does (and how it should) manage the interface between science and public policy.

Convenor: Heather Douglas

Board of Directors

(at August 31, 2017)

George Dixon
Chair

George Dixon is Interim Vice-President Academic & Provost, and Professor of Biology at the University of Waterloo. He served as Dean of Science from 2001-2007. George has received both the Award for Excellence in Research and the Distinguished Teaching Award from the University. He has over 30 years experience in aquatic toxicology and environmental risk assessment and management, principally but not exclusively, with respect to the environmental impacts associated with metals and mining activity. At various times during his career he has served as an advisor on metal contamination issues to Environment Canada, the Department of Fisheries and Oceans, the Department of Justice (Canada), the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, the U.S. National Oceanographic and Atmospheric Administration, the Department of Justice (U.S.) and the World Health Organization, among others.

Alistair Edgar
Member

Alistair Edgar is Executive Director of the Academic Council on the United Nations System (ACUNS), Faculty Associate and Advisory Board member at the Laurier Centre for Military Strategic and Disarmament Studies, and is Associate Professor of Political Science at Wilfrid Laurier University. Outside of the University, Alistair is president of the New Delhi, India-based International Jurist Organization; sits on the Board of the Canadian Land Mine Foundation; and is a former National Board member of the United Nations Association in Canada. He is active on the editorial boards of the Center for Governance and Sustainability (University of Massachusetts Boston) Issue Briefs series, and the Journal of International Peacekeeping. Alistair's research focuses on transitional justice in war-to-peace transitions and post-conflict peace building. He has conducted fieldwork in Afghanistan, Cambodia, Kosovo, and northern Uganda.

Robert Gordon
Secretary

Robert Gordon, a leading authority on environmental issues in Canada, joined Laurier as the Vice-President: Research in November 2015, and joined the BSIA Board in February 2017. As the Vice-President: Research, Rob is responsible for building Laurier's overall research enterprise and providing strategic leadership on scholarly and research activities across multiple campuses. He also holds a faculty appointment in Laurier's Department of Geography and Environmental Studies. Prior to joining Laurier, Rob was dean of the Ontario Agricultural College at the University of Guelph, the largest agriculture and food faculty in Canada. He previously held a prestigious Canada Research Chair in Environmental Resource Management at the Nova Scotia Agricultural College (now part of Dalhousie University).

Jasmin Habib
Member

Jasmin Habib teaches in the Department of Political Science at the University of Waterloo and the Global Governance program at the BSIA, and is the founding Director of the newly-established Global Engagement Seminar Program at the University of Waterloo. She has undertaken an active programme of research and teaching since completing her PhD in Cultural Anthropology at McMaster University. Her primary research focus is on the cultural politics of diaspora, refugees, and emigre communities from and in relation to Israel and Palestine. Among her book publications are Israel, Diaspora and the Routes of National Belonging and America Observed: On an International Anthropology of the United States (co-edited with Virginia Dominguez). She is Principal Investigator on a SSHRC Partnership Development Grant entitled “A Socio-Cultural Mapping of Arab-Canadian Migration, Settlement, and Integration: Collaboration, Community, Co-Authorship”. She is also deeply committed to collaborative community based research, most recently co-authoring local histories of governance in Eeyou Istchee/ Northern Quebec.

Rohinton Medhora
Member

Rohinton P. Medhora is President of the Centre for International Governance Innovation. CIGI’s research programs focus on the global economy; global security and politics; and international law. Previously he was Vice President, Programs at Canada’s International Development Research Centre, a research funder. He received his doctorate in economics in 1988 from the University of Toronto, where he also subsequently taught for a number of years. His fields of expertise are monetary and trade policy, international economic relations, and aid effectiveness. His recent publications include co-edited books on development thought and practice, Canada’s relations with Africa, and Canada’s role in the international financial system. In addition to the BSIA Board, he serves on the Boards of the Institute for New Economic Thinking and the Partnership for African Social and Governance Research.

Aaron Shull
Treasurer

Aaron Shull is the Chief of Staff and General Counsel for CIGI. Prior to that he was CIGI’s counsel and corporate secretary and was also a research fellow. He continues to act as corporate secretary. As General Counsel, he responds to legal inquiries from Senior Management that relate to corporate, contractual, employment, occupational health and safety, intellectual property, dispute resolution, and compliance related matters. As Chief of Staff, he operates as an effective liaison and conduit across all departments, providing guidance and advice on all matters of strategic and operational importance. Prior to joining CIGI, Aaron practised law for a number of organizations, focusing on international, regulatory and environmental law. He has taught courses at the University of Ottawa, Faculty of Law, and the Norman Paterson School of International Affairs and was previously a staff editor for the Columbia Journal of Transnational Law.
