

ANNUAL REPORT 2018-19

About the School

The Balsillie School of International Affairs (BSIA) is an institute for advanced research, education, and outreach in the fields of global governance and international public policy.

As a hub in a global network of scholars, practitioners and students, the BSIA aims to develop new solutions to humanity's critical problems, improve global governance now and in the future, and enhance the quality of people's lives around the world.

Founded in 2007 by philanthropist Jim Balsillie, the BSIA is an equal collaboration among the Centre for International Governance Innovation (CIGI), the University of Waterloo (UW), and Wilfrid Laurier University (Laurier). The collaborating institutions bring to the BSIA different but complementary strengths, so they have different roles and responsibilities. The two universities employ BSIA faculty and offer BSIA's academic programs, while CIGI, as a think tank, uses its in-house expertise and its worldwide network of practitioners to help inform and guide BSIA's outreach and collaborative research. The BSIA is also the home to three research centres with an international profile - the International Migration Research Centre (IMRC), the Laurier Centre for Sustainable Food Systems (LCSFS), and the Canadian Network for Research on Terrorism, Security and Society (TSAS).

The unique integration of the collaborating institutions' approaches and cultures gives BSIA an unmatched ability to promote vigorous engagement across boundaries of discipline and practice, to connect today's experts with tomorrow's leaders in critical debate and analysis, and to achieve—in all its work—the highest standards of excellence.

Highlights of the Year

The 2018-19 academic year marked the first in the Balsillie School's second decade, and what a year it was. Not only did we welcome a new School Director, but we also welcomed our first Diplomat-in-Residence, our largest cohort of students, and launched the largest collaborative Balsillie School publication to date, "Achieving the Sustainable Development Goals: Global Governance Challenges".

Published by Routledge as part of its Routledge Studies in Sustainable Development series, “Achieving the Sustainable Development Goals: Global Governance Challenges” features contributions from 18 members of our BSIA community. This collaborative effort is the largest of its kind in the BSIA history, and one that highlights the vast expertise of our community.

In September 2018, we welcomed a record number of incoming students, and added 38 more to our growing list of graduates, which now totals more than 300. In January 2019, we were joined by Roy Norton, former Chief of Protocol at Global Affairs Canada, as our inaugural diplomat-in-residence for an 18-month term. We also hosted two more talented Fulbright Fellows from the United States, Alexandra Harrington for two terms, and Lisa Molomot for one term.

We had a record eight PhD students who successfully defended their dissertations during this academic year: congratulations to Maissaa Almustafa, Skylar Brooks, Andrés Garcia, Matthew Gaudreau, Wayne Gill, Irene Spagna, Anastasia Ufimtseva, and Karolina Werner. We can't wait to see what they do next!

Once again, our students and faculty were hugely successful in securing external grants and awards. Collectively, our students were awarded more than $550,000 in external funding, and six BSIA faculty members were awarded more than $1.1 million in SSHRC grants, including Gerry Boychuk, Timothy Donais, Jenna Hennebry, Alex Latta, Andrew Thompson and Margaret Walton-Roberts.

Among the notable honours accorded to our faculty (in chronological order), Bessma Momani was appointed to the Pierre Elliott Trudeau Foundation Board of Directors; Jennifer Clapp won the Innis-Gérin Medal for enriching social sciences literature, presented by the Royal Society of Canada; John Ravenhill was awarded the Sage Publishers prize for the best article published in International Journal in 2018; PhD student and Pierre Elliott Trudeau Foundation Scholar Tahnee Prior and a colleague from the University of Lapland launched a non-profit organization called “Women of the Arctic”; Andrew Cooper was the 2019 recipient of the Distinguished Scholar Award in the Diplomatic Studies Section of the International Studies Association; and Kim Rygiel was one of the recipients of the Laurier Faculty Award for Service Excellence and Community Engagement.

The School again hosted more than 100 lectures, seminars and workshops. Many of the events were organized by the seven research clusters that the School has identified as its core areas of expertise: Conflict and Security; Environment and Resources; Global Political Economy; Migration, Mobilities and Social Politics; Indigenous Peoples, Decolonization and the Globe; Multilateral Institutions; and Science and Health Policy. The vast majority of these events were also open to the public.

In partnership with The Dalai Lama Center for Ethics and Transformative Values at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, the School hosted the Transformative Leadership Program for its second year. After welcoming the Canadian Network for Research on Terrorism

Security and Society (TSAS) to the School in 2018, the School hosted the TSAS Summer Academy, which is designed to foster a comprehensive understanding of radicalization, terrorism, security and how all of these are situated in the context of a rapidly changing Canadian society. The School welcomed Senator Peter Harder as the keynote speaker at our 5th annual BSIA Symposium in April, where our students made their final draft policy presentations to faculty and special guests, including Senator Martha Deacon. The Global Political Economy Research Cluster hosted their 5th Dissertation Workshop, which gives PhD students the opportunity to present work in progress to an interdisciplinary audience of faculty and students.

The BSIA partnered with the Canadian Red Cross, Conrad Grebel University College, Project Ploughshares and Wilfrid Laurier University to host the second International Humanitarian Law conference with the theme, “Instruments of Peace”, which welcomed 80 participants from across both Universities and the community.

The BSIA was also pleased to celebrate the 10th anniversary of one of our very productive Centres, the International Migration Research Centre.

But arguably the most exciting thing from this academic year was that our partners were tasked with finding a new Director for the School. For nearly six months, the hiring committee, comprised of faculty and staff representatives, interviewed people from countries around the world, and hosted public talks by their top choices. The Board endorsed the hiring committee’s choice candidate, and we welcomed Dr. Ann Fitz-Gerald officially to the School in August.

As John passes the torch over to Ann to continue to build the BSIA’s reputation as a global leader of graduate education in global governance and international public policy, we at the School want to thank him for his support, direction and teaching. It was a wonderful six years!

John Ravenhill, Outgoing Director

Ann Fitz-Gerald, Incoming Director

Research Clusters

Conflict and Security

Research in this cluster includes work on confidence building, the nexus between economics and security, the role of ideology in conflict, critical approaches to security and human security, and human rights.

Convenors: Timothy Donais

Environment and Resources

This cluster addresses global governance challenges arising from large-scale environmental and resource stresses, including climate change, food insecurity, declining biodiversity, water shortages, forest loss, fisheries depletion, and energy scarcities.

Convenors: Clay Dasilva and Scott Hamilton

Global Political Economy

This cluster embraces a variety of perspectives on the field of political economy. Topics include the politics of global trade and finance, the changing world food system, and the rise of “emerging powers” in the world economy.

Convenors: Derek Hall and Heather Whiteside

Indigenous Peoples, Decolonization and the Globe

This cluster is an action-oriented research group that supports activities oriented to decolonizing our institutions, the disciplines we work across and the knowledge systems with which we engage.

Convenors: Jasmin Habib and Audra Mitchell

Migration, Mobilities and Social Politics

This group fosters dialogue and scholarship on governance challenges arising from global migration, mobilities and social politics. Priorities include human rights and citizenship, global social policy and protection, diaspora and transnationalism, and territory and identity.

Convenors: Suzan Ican, Kim Rygiel and Margaret Walton-Roberts

Multilateral Institutions

This cluster analyzes the activities and policies of political, economic and other multilateral institutions - including intergovernmental and non-governmental organizations - and the challenges that face such bodies or are posed by their actions.

Convenors: Andrew Cooper and Alistair Edgar

Science and Health Policy

Drawing on the enormous wealth of talent in the STEM disciplines at both universities, this cluster examines environmental policies, innovation policies, health policies, and how Canada does (and how it should) manage the interface between science and public policy.

Convenors: Karen Grepin, Kathryn Henne, and Jennifer Liu

Board of Directors (as at Aug. 31, 2019)

Robert Gordon

Chair

Robert Gordon, a leading authority on environmental issues in Canada, joined Laurier as the Vice-President: Research in November 2015, and joined the BSIA Board in February 2017. He was appointed as Laurier's provost and vice-president: academic on July 1, 2018. In this role, Dr. Gordon is responsible for implementing the priorities outlined in Laurier's Strategic Academic Plan, including advancing academic excellence, expanding experiential learning and enhancing diversity. He will serve as senior lead in implementing the academic plan for Laurier's Milton campus. Dr. Gordon works closely with the president and vice-chancellor on university-wide strategic planning and executing the university's Strategic Mandate Agreement with the province. He also holds a faculty appointment in Laurier's Department of Geography and Environmental Studies.

James Rush

Secretary

James Rush was appointed Vice-President Academic and Provost of the University of Waterloo on July 1, 2018. In this role, Dr. Rush serves as the chief academic officer, the chief operating officer, and the chief operating budgetary officer of the university. He works closely with the president, the deans, and the executive team in executing the university strategic and operational plans. Prior to his appointment as Vice-President Academic and Provost, Dr. Rush served in a number of other administrative roles at the University of Waterloo including dean of the Faculty of Applied Health Sciences, and as chair of the Department of Kinesiology, where he continues to hold an academic appointment as professor.

Shelley Boettger

Treasurer

As the Centre for International Governance Innovation (CIGI)'s chief financial officer and director of operations, Shelley Boettger provides corporate leadership and strategic guidance on all financial aspects of the organization.

Shelley is responsible for the management of CIGI's financial systems and investment portfolios, as well as for managing operations and providing financial advice to senior leadership. An expert communicator and driver of effective change management, Shelley brings to the organization a unique perspective as a corporate leader, with a focus on managing high-performing teams.

Alistair Edgar

Member

Alistair Edgar is Executive Director of the Academic Council on the United Nations System (ACUNS), Faculty Associate and Advisory Board member at the Laurier Centre for Military Strategic and Disarmament Studies, and is Associate Professor of Political Science at Wilfrid Laurier University. Outside of the University, Alistair is president of the New Delhi, India-based International Jurist Organization; sits on the Board of the Canadian Land Mine Foundation; and is a former National Board member of the United Nations Association in Canada. He is active on the editorial boards of the Center for Governance and Sustainability (University of Massachusetts Boston) Issue Briefs series, and the Journal of International Peacekeeping. Alistair's research focuses on transitional justice in war-to-peace transitions and post-conflict peace building.

Suzan Ilcan

Member

Suzan Ilcan is Professor of Sociology in the Department of Sociology and Legal Studies at the University of Waterloo and the Balsillie School of International Affairs. Her research covers themes at the interface of global governance, humanitarian and development aid, and migration studies, including: humanitarian aid and refugees, citizenship rights and social justice, and the politics of poverty and development. Her most recent SSHRC-funded project (2015-2019) is on "Humanitarian Aid, Citizenship Politics, and the Governance of Syrian Refugees in Turkey". The project examines aid and emergency responses to forced migrant populations, with a focus on precarity, differential inclusion, and citizenship politics involving Syrian refugees in Turkey and other European countries. With project investigators, Feyzi Baban (Trent University) and Kim Rygiel (BSIA, Wilfrid Laurier University), she is co-authoring a book on this research.

Aaron Shull

Member

Aaron Shull is the Chief of Staff and General Counsel for CIGI. Prior to that he was CIGI's counsel and corporate secretary and was also a research fellow. He continues to act as corporate secretary. As General Counsel, he responds to legal inquiries from Senior Management that relate to corporate, contractual, employment, occupational health and safety, intellectual property, dispute resolution, and compliance related matters. As Chief of Staff, he operates as an effective liaison and conduit across all departments, providing guidance and advice on all matters of strategic and operational importance. Prior to joining CIGI, Aaron practised law for a number of organizations, focusing on international, regulatory and environmental law. He has taught courses at the University of Ottawa, Faculty of Law, and the Norman Paterson School of International Affairs and was previously a staff editor for the Columbia Journal of Transnational Law.
