About the School

The Balsillie School of International Affairs (BSIA) is an institute for advanced research, education, and outreach in the fields of global governance and international public policy.

As a hub in a global network of scholars, practitioners and students, the BSIA aims to develop new solutions to humanity's critical problems, improve global governance now and in the future, and enhance the quality of people's lives around the world.

Founded in 2007 by philanthropist Jim Balsillie, the BSIA is an equal collaboration among the Centre for International Governance Innovation (CIGI), the University of Waterloo (UW), and Wilfrid Laurier University (Laurier). The collaborating institutions bring to the BSIA different but complementary strengths, so they have different roles and responsibilities. The two universities employ BSIA faculty and offer BSIA's academic programs, while CIGI, as a think tank, uses its in-house expertise and its worldwide network of practitioners to help inform and guide BSIA's outreach and collaborative research. The BSIA is also the home to four research centres with an international profile - the Academic Council on the United Nations System (ACUNS), the Canadian Network for Research on Terrorism, Security and Society (TSAS), the Laurier Centre for Sustainable Food Systems (LCSFS), and the International Migration Research Centre (IMRC).

The unique integration of the collaborating institutions' approaches and cultures gives BSIA an unmatched ability to promote vigorous engagement across boundaries of discipline and practice, to connect today's experts with tomorrow's leaders in critical debate and analysis, and to achieve—in all its work—the highest standards of excellence.

Highlights of the Year

This academic year was a momentous one for the School, marking the 10th anniversary of its foundation. In a relatively short period of time, the School has made remarkable progress. It has quickly emerged as a leading provider of graduate education in global governance and international public policy not just within Canada but internationally.

Enrolments in our Masters and PhD programs have increased by more than fifty percent in the last three years. Through the seven research clusters the School has established, a lively research climate has been created that has facilitated collaboration across our three partner institutions. Our faculty and students continue to win national and international recognition and prestigious awards for the quality of their work.

This year was also of great significance for the School because the three partners were successful in re-negotiating the financial arrangements that sustain the School's activities. Thanks to the generosity of Mr. Jim Balsillie, the funding that supports the School, primarily through providing fellowships for our Masters and PhD students, was extended for a further decade. With this very strong foundation, the School can look forward and plan with a great deal of confidence that the next decade will be at least as successful as the last.

The School's official celebration of its tenth anniversary was held at the start of September 2018. Among the almost 300 participants were the Presidents of the two universities, Dr. Feridun Hamdullahpur and Dr. Deborah MacLatchy; Mr. Aaron Shull, Managing Director of CIGI; The Honourable Bardish Chagger, Leader of the Government in the House of Commons and MP for Waterloo; Raj Saini, Member of Parliament for Kitchener Centre; His Worship Dave Jaworsky, Mayor for the City of Waterloo; and His Worship Berry Vrbanovic, Mayor for the City of Kitchener. The event was hosted by BSIA Board Chair and Laurier Provost, Dr. Robert Gordon.

In September 2017, the School admitted its largest ever cohort to the Master of Arts in Global Governance program. In addition to the 20 domestic students, one student came to Waterloo on exchange from our partner the University of Konstanz, and one student joined us for a double degree program through the University of Warwick. The MIPP welcomed its second cohort of students under the African Leaders of Tomorrow (ALT) initiative, which commemorates Nelson Mandela's commitment to social justice and equity by offering young African women and men the opportunity to study in a master's degree program in Canada. The initiative is funded by Global Affairs Canada and the MasterCard Foundation, and we were pleased that four ALT students joined our MIPP program. We are now starting to see our early PhD students complete their programs: a record five PhD students successfully defended their dissertations in this academic year: congratulations to Carla Angulo-Pasel, Kimberly Burnett, Rupinder Mangat, Sara Rose Taylor, and Jessica West. Our incoming and current Masters and Phds students also received approximately $500,000 in external awards in 2018.

Among the notable honours accorded our faculty, Keith Hipel was appointed to the Order of Canada, Sarah Burch and Shohini Ghose were elected to the Royal Society of Canada's College of New Scholars, Sue Horton was inducted as a Fellow of the Canadian Academy of Health Sciences, Jennifer Clapp received the 2018 Distinguished Scholar Award from the Environmental Studies Section of ISA, our Banting Postdoctoral Fellow Scott Hamilton received the International Studies Association's Theory Section's Best Paper Award, Jonathan Crush was named Laurier University Research Professor, and Jennifer Clapp, Suzan Ilcan and Jasmin Habib received 2017 Outstanding Performance Awards from the University of Waterloo.

The School continued its collaboration with the Foresight and Global Trends Analysis unit in the Foreign Policy Bureau of Global Affairs to develop papers that fed into the department's analysis of developments likely to affect Canada's foreign policy in the coming years. Our Masters and PhD students presented drafts of their briefs at the annual BSIA Graduate Student Symposium in April, where Paul Meyer, former Ambassador and Permanent Representative to the Office of the UN and the Conference on Disarmament, joined us as the keynote speaker. The final versions of the policy briefs were presented at a meeting in Ottawa at Global Affairs in June 2018. The meeting included more than 60 officials from various government departments—and was regarded by all parties as the most successful of the iterations to date. Eight BSIA students also had the opportunity to travel to Ottawa to participate in the Artificial Intelligence and Human Rights Student Symposium and Policy Challenge, co-hosted by the Digital Inclusion Lab at Global Affairs Canada and the Canadian Institute for Advanced Research.

The School maintained an active events and outreach program through the year, hosting more than 100 lectures, seminars and workshops. Many of the events were organized by the seven research clusters that the School has identified as its core areas of expertise: Conflict and Security; Environment and Resources; Global Political Economy; Migration, Mobilities and Social Politics; Indigenous Peoples, Decolonization and the Globe; Multilateral Institutions; and Science and Health Policy. The vast majority of them were open to the public. For a fourth year, the School hosted an International Law Summer Institute, co-organized by Neil Craik (UW) and Maria Panezi (CIGI), which attracted a number of distinguished speakers, and applications from Masters and PhD students from across Canada and four other countries. For the first time, we also hosted a Transformative

Leadership Program, a two-day certificate program for students and leaders of non-profit organizations. The Program was led by The Venerable Tenzin Priyadarshi, Director of the Ethics Initiative at the MIT Media Lab and President & CEO of The Dalai Lama Center for Ethics and Transformative Values at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. The School also co-hosted a Model G20 for the University of Waterloo's Model UN society, and a Model UN for the local high schools. Among the highlights of a very busy year were talks by The Honourable Karina Gould, Minister of Democratic Institutions; Professor Clive Hamilton, author; MP Romeo Saganash; and Andrew Feinstein, author and Executive Director, Corruption Watch.

Research Clusters

Conflict and Security

Research in this cluster includes work on confidence building, the nexus between economics and security, the role of ideology in conflict, critical approaches to security and human security, and human rights.

Convenors: Andrew Cooper, Alistair Edgar and Jasmin Habib

Migration, Mobilities and Social Politics

This group fosters dialogue and scholarship on governance challenges arising from global migration, mobilities and social politics. Priorities include human rights and citizenship, global social policy and protection, diaspora and transnationalism, and territory and identity.

Convenors: Suzan Ilcan and Kim Rygiel

Environment and Resources

This cluster addresses global governance challenges arising from large-scale environmental and resource stresses, including climate change, food insecurity, declining biodiversity, water shortages, forest loss, fisheries depletion, and energy scarcities.

Convenors: Clay Dasilva and Scott Hamilton

Indigenous Peoples, Decolonization and the Globe

This cluster is an action-oriented research group that supports activities oriented to decolonizing our institutions, the disciplines we work across and the knowledge systems with which we engage.

Convenors: Jasmin Habib and Audra Mitchell

Multilateral Institutions

This cluster analyzes the activities and policies of political, economic and other multilateral institutions - including intergovernmental and non-governmental organizations - and the challenges that face such bodies or are posed by their actions.

Convenors: Andrew Cooper and Alistair Edgar

Global Political Economy

This cluster embraces a variety of perspectives on the field of political economy. Topics include the politics of global trade and finance, the changing world food system, and the rise of “emerging powers” in the world economy.

Convenors: Derek Hall and Heather Whiteside

Science and Health Policy

Drawing on the enormous wealth of talent in the STEM disciplines at both universities, this cluster examines environmental policies, innovation policies, health policies, and how Canada does (and how it should) manage the interface between science and public policy.

Convenor: Heather Douglas (Sept-May); Karen Grepin, Kathryn Henne, and Jennifer Liu (June-Aug)

Board of Directors

(at August 31, 2018)

Robert Gordon
Chair

Robert Gordon, a leading authority on environmental issues in Canada, joined Laurier as the Vice-President: Research in November 2015, and joined the BSIA Board in February 2017. He was appointed as Laurier's provost and vice-president: academic on July 1, 2018. In this role, Dr. Gordon is responsible for implementing the priorities outlined in Laurier's Strategic Academic Plan, including advancing academic excellence, expanding experiential learning and enhancing diversity. He will serve as senior lead in implementing the academic plan for Laurier's Milton campus. Dr. Gordon works closely with the president and vice-chancellor on university-wide strategic planning and executing the university's Strategic Mandate Agreement with the province. He also holds a faculty appointment in Laurier's Department of Geography and Environmental Studies.

James Rush
Secretary

James Rush was appointed Vice-President Academic and Provost of the University of Waterloo on July 1, 2018. In this role, Dr. Rush serves as the chief academic officer, the chief operating officer, and the chief operating budgetary officer of the university. He works closely with the president, the deans, and the executive team in executing the university strategic and operational plans. Prior to his appointment as Vice-President Academic and Provost, Dr. Rush served in a number of other administrative roles at the University of Waterloo including dean of the Faculty of Applied Health Sciences, and as chair of the Department of Kinesiology, where he continues to hold an academic appointment as professor.

Shelley Boettger
Treasurer

As the Centre for International Governance Innovation (CIGI)'s chief financial officer and director of operations, Shelley Boettger provides corporate leadership and strategic guidance on all financial aspects of the organization. Shelley is responsible for the management of CIGI's financial systems and investment portfolios, as well as for managing operations and providing financial advice to senior leadership. An expert communicator and driver of effective change management, Shelley brings to the organization a unique perspective as a corporate leader, with a focus on managing high-performing teams.

Alistair Edgar is Executive Director of the Academic Council on the United Nations System (ACUNS), Faculty Associate and Advisory Board member at the Laurier Centre for Military Strategic and Disarmament Studies, and is Associate Professor of Political Science at Wilfrid Laurier University. Outside of the University, Alistair is president of the New Delhi, India-based International Jurist Organization; sits on the Board of the Canadian Land Mine Foundation; and is a former National Board member of the United Nations Association in Canada. He is active on the editorial boards of the Center for Governance and Sustainability (University of Massachusetts Boston) Issue Briefs series, and the Journal of International Peacekeeping. Alistair's research focuses on transitional justice in war-to-peace transitions and post-conflict peace building.

Suzan Ilcan
Member

Suzan Ilcan is Professor of Sociology in the Department of Sociology and Legal Studies at the University of Waterloo and the Balsillie School of International Affairs. Her research covers themes at the interface of global governance, humanitarian and development aid, and migration studies, including: humanitarian aid and refugees, citizenship rights and social justice, and the politics of poverty and development. Her most recent SSHRC-funded project (2015-2019) is on "Humanitarian Aid, Citizenship Politics, and the Governance of Syrian Refugees in Turkey". The project examines aid and emergency responses to forced migrant populations, with a focus on precarity, differential inclusion, and citizenship politics involving Syrian refugees in Turkey and other European countries. With project investigators, Feyzi Baban (Trent University) and Kim Rygiel (BSIA, Wilfrid Laurier University), she is co-authoring a book on this research.

Aaron Shull
Member

Aaron Shull is the Chief of Staff and General Counsel for CIGI. Prior to that he was CIGI's counsel and corporate secretary and was also a research fellow. He continues to act as corporate secretary. As General Counsel, he responds to legal inquiries from Senior Management that relate to corporate, contractual, employment, occupational health and safety, intellectual property, dispute resolution, and compliance related matters. As Chief of Staff, he operates as an effective liaison and conduit across all departments, providing guidance and advice on all matters of strategic and operational importance. Prior to joining CIGI, Aaron practised law for a number of organizations, focusing on international, regulatory and environmental law. He has taught courses at the University of Ottawa, Faculty of Law, and the Norman Paterson School of International Affairs and was previously a staff editor for the Columbia Journal of Transnational Law.
